

Our Partner Lia Alizia shared her valuable insights at the LAWASIA Employment Law Conference 2023

Our Partner Lia Alizia, as one of few selected speakers from Indonesia, shared her valuable insights at the LAWASIA Employment Law Conference 2023 on the topic 'Is the Old Eroding? Are the Separate Categories of Employees and Contractors Still Appropriate?'

The session focused on workforce contractual boundaries that have long relied on the distinction between contracts of service (for employees) and contracts for services (for contractors).

Alongside prominent speakers from other nations, Lia Alizia presented perspectives from Indonesia, explaining the pros and cons of hiring permanent employees and independent contractors. Her contribution to the global conversation underscores knowledge-sharing as one of the core values of our firm.
