

New Regulations and Policies Related to the COVID-19 Pandemic in Indonesia

Since President Joko Widodo announced Indonesia's first confirmed case on 2 March 2020, the spread of COVID-19 has affected the country in many aspects including in the economic, health, employment, and industrial sectors.

The central and regional governments of Indonesia have issued various new policies and regulations to manage and control the spread of the novel coronavirus. Co-authored by Lina Amran, Maria Sagrado, and Gaudencia Vania, please check out the complete list that we have summarized for you on this advisory.